   Please note: You will need to choose how you want to connect to audio for each meeting you attend unless you don’t use your computer and call into the meeting directly by phone.

5. Please note that if you’re joining from your computer, and your computer does not have a microphone (which most don’t) you will still need to call in to the meeting, or in other words, will need to select “I will call in”.

6. Once you select “I will call in” it will provide you with the meeting phone number, ID code, and participant ID (illustrated below). You will be prompted to enter in all of that information.
